

An archaeological excavation site showing a circular feature in the ground. The feature is filled with a light-colored, sandy material. A scale bar with alternating red and white segments is placed horizontally to the left of the feature. Two white labels with black text are positioned above the scale bar. The surrounding area consists of brownish soil and some larger rocks or stones.

S.102

751

504

S.102

731

284

S.102

786

S.102

